

ENFORCE MILK REGULATIONS

NOTED HEALTH DIRECTOR SAYS PAY ON BASIS OF FREEDOM FROM BACTERIA.

Lansing, Dec. 8.—"Pay the farmer for his milk on the basis of freedom from bacteria," is the solution offered by Dr. C. E. North, director of the North Public Health Bureau of New York, for providing a community with pure milk and lessening the amount of sickness. The suggestion was made during a lecture on "Milk Inspection" at the state conference of health officers and nurses in Lansing.

"I do not know of any one thing which will do more for the health of the public, especially the infants and children, than enforcement of milk regulations," said Dr. North. "No one has a monopoly on cleanliness. It isn't the dairy barn which produces clean milk, but the man who cares for the cattle. The biggest secret of clean milk is plentiful supplies of hot and cold water. It is bad sanitary practice to bed milk cows too generously with dry straw. The dust laden air and infects the milk.

"The farmer's wife deals with the most deadly weapon in the milk business—the strainer cloth. If ordinary precautions of cleanliness are taken, a strainer is unnecessary. Even if a strainer is used, it is worthless except in excluding the visible pieces of filth. Regiments of 160,000 bacteria can march with extended ranks through the finest mesh of a strainer. Only dirty farmers have to have strainers."

To produce acceptably clean milk, that is, milk with less than 50,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter of milk, according to Dr. North it is necessary: To curd and brush the cows; to wipe the udder with a clean, damp cloth and to dry it with another; to wash and dry the hands before milking; to use a straight-fronted milk pail with not more than a five-inch opening; to bring the pail close to the udder (calves get certified milk because air never reaches it); to cool the milk immediately without straining; and to sterilize and dry thoroughly all milk utensils.

Welfare Association Held Annual Meeting

The regular annual meeting of the Alma Welfare Association was held Wednesday afternoon at the Wright House parlors and was well attended, about thirty women being present.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Pres., Mrs. Sadie Soule; 1st vice president, Miss Frances Stitt; 2nd vice pres., Mrs. L. N. Baker; Sec., Mrs. McLaughlin; and treasurer, Mrs. Wm. A. Bahke. The president appointed the following as chairmen of the various necessary committees: Purchasing committee, Miss Frances Stitt and Miss Laura Soule; emergency committee, Mrs. G. V. Wright; publicity committee, Mrs. H. S. Babcock; and Investigating committee 1st ward, Miss Laura Soule; 2nd ward, Winifred Trapp; 3rd ward, Mrs. Wm. Randalls; 4th ward, Mrs. Knudson.

Mrs. Fuller then gave a very interesting report of the work which has been accomplished to date by the Welfare Association. This report will appear in next week's issue of the Record.

The remainder of the time was devoted to a free discussion of plans for the coming year. The Welfare Association is an organization which exists to fill a long felt need in Alma. Many people who for some reason or other are in need of temporary assistance have been substantially aided through this organization during the past year and many more will doubtless be aided during the coming year. There are no fees and the membership is open to all interested women of Alma. The organization needs just as many loyal workers back of it as it is possible to obtain and all women who can find it possible to aid in this work are cordially invited to attend the meetings and become members.

The work of the distribution of the Christmas baskets will be very efficiently performed by the Welfare Association this year and all other organizations which have been in the habit of taking over a part of this work are urged this year to work through the Welfare Association in order that the whole city may be thoroughly and systematically covered. All names of needy families should be left at the Welfare Association rooms with Mrs. Fuller who will report the same to the Investigating committee who in turn will visit the families so reported and submit their recommendations concerning the baskets. In this way it is felt that no one need be missed, for the work can be done much more systematically if handled by one organization than if handled by several working independently.

The Welfare Society rooms are open from 2 to 6 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Any contributions of food, money, or partially worn clothing which can be made over will be welcomed and put to good use. Leave such contributions at the rooms at the city hall.

The Third Heaven.
According to an ancient Jewish opinion there were three heavens: (1) that wherein the birds fly, (2) that wherein the stars move, (3) that wherein the Highest and His angels live. In II Corinthians St. Paul's reference is to the heaven of heavens, the place of God's ruling over angels and all powers, as distinct from Paradise where the souls of the faithful dead abide, to which best place he was captured, also, as he says in the same passage.

Kiss Has Been Important.
The kiss has always played a rather important part in events of the world, from the kiss of Judas, betraying Christ, to the kiss of a French general on the blushing cheek of an American doughboy as he pinned a decoration on the khaki blouse. In the folklore of every country it is a prominent theme—it waked princesses who had slept for a hundred years in enchanted palaces, or transformed hideous beasts into gallant princes.

Hunting Gazelles From Autos.
The speed of the gazelle has always made it exceedingly difficult to hunt them, but now it is a common thing to see gazelle hunters in automobiles darting across the desert of Morocco in chase of these speedy animals. The results of the hunt are invariably greater than when horses are used, because the animals become tired out before overtaking the gazelles.

"Soaked" Family Doctor.
After a Kentucky judge had fined his family doctor $50 and costs for speeding and had sentenced him to jail for three days, he went on to say: "You and I are friends. I am your lawyer and you are my doctor, but I sit on here to administer justice as I see it. And you will serve that sentence in spite of our friendship or what any of our friends may do." Just wait until it comes Doc's turn to sit in judgment on that judge!

Kid Raising for Gloves.
Before the war the peasants of many little villages made a living by raising kid to supply the gloves for which France has long been famous. The perfection of the skins is considered by the French manufacturers to be the keynote of the perfect gloves. Their method is to have one workman handle the prepared kid from the time it is brought in until the gloves which are shaped from that kid are entirely finished.

To Quench Thirst.
An invalid whose mouth becomes dry and parched during the night, or a fever patient, will find that an orange, cut into small pieces and placed within an easy reach of the bed so that a piece may be held in the mouth from time to time, will be more beneficial than water, says Good Housekeeping. It has the added advantage that a patient can manage the pieces of orange more easily than he could a glass of water.

The Happy Man.
That man is always happy who is in the presence of something which he cannot know to the full, which he is always going on to know. This is the necessary condition of a finite creature with divinely rooted and divinely directed intelligence; thus, therefore, its happy state—but observe, a state, not of triumph of joy in what it knows, but of joy rather in the continual discovery of new ignorance, continual self-abasement, continual astonishment.—Ruskin.

To neglect your children's eyesight is to incur a grave responsibility. Have us examine them, that you may learn their true condition, and whether or not glasses are necessary.

"Soaked" Family Doctor.
After a Kentucky judge had fined his family doctor $50 and costs for speeding and had sentenced him to jail for three days, he went on to say: "You and I are friends. I am your lawyer and you are my doctor, but I sit on here to administer justice as I see it. And you will serve that sentence in spite of our friendship or what any of our friends may do." Just wait until it comes Doc's turn to sit in judgment on that judge!

Kid Raising for Gloves.
Before the war the peasants of many little villages made a living by raising kid to supply the gloves for which France has long been famous. The perfection of the skins is considered by the French manufacturers to be the keynote of the perfect gloves. Their method is to have one workman handle the prepared kid from the time it is brought in until the gloves which are shaped from that kid are entirely finished.
